A MESSAGE FROM OUR PRESIDENT

Since its inception in 1983, Commerce Financial Printers Corp. has taken pride in providing quality financial printing at a competitive price to hundreds of financial Institutions and public and privately held corporations.

While CFP started as a financial printer, we have since widened our scope to include commercial printing and can accommodate all your business printing needs. Our financial printing philosophy, providing high quality printing that enhances our clients' corporate image, has been carried over to our commercial printing operation.

Our staff at CFP is made up of experienced professionals, knowledgeable in both printing and shareholder communications. This extensive experience allows us to help our customers enhance their finished product at a cost-effective price. I'm sure if you try Commerce Financial Printers you'll discover why so many clients have decided to use CFP for all of their printing needs.

INVESTOR CONTACT

Mastering the Art of Investor Contact is key to the continued success of every publicly held corporation, large or small. Printed communications that look professional enhance the image of your company in the eyes of your stockholders, potential investors and clients.

Since 1983, Commerce Financial Printers has been providing the expertise needed to help companies prepare their investor communications. The often complex world of financial printing can be expensive and difficult for even the most proficient corporate investor relations manager.

Commerce Financial Printers has the experience needed to help you prepare quality printed material, coordinate the production and ensure cost-effective, timely delivery.

COMMERCE FINANCIAL PRINTERS

We are specialists in the field of financial printing and mailing. Over 300 publicly held companies and many financial institutions depend on our knowledgeable and personalized service — service that can save you headaches and money.

Meeting critical deadlines in the digital age is routine to CFP; last minute changes and quick turnaround is what financial printing is all about. At CFP, we have invested in technology to help us tackle one of the main objectives of our industry — meet deadlines at a competitive price.

How can YOU benefit from CFP's investment in technology?

CFP uses advanced technology to meet your needs by:

- ◆ using computerized typesetting to initially create your documents and archival libraries to store them for future updates;
- ◆ transferring information via E-mail and modem to facilitate job start-up and accommodate critical last minute changes;
- ◆ using high-speed offset presses and an in-house bindery to meet deadlines and maintain quality control;
- ◆ integrating cost-effective, high speed laser printing for customized results.

Although technology is important to our success, we haven't forgotten the importance of personalized service. A dedicated account executive will personally handle all of your printing needs. We understand how important it is for you to get through to someone familiar with your account who can tell you the exact status of your job.

In today's highly competitive business world, corporate leaders need dependable, economical and all-inclusive financial print services ...

CUSTOM QUOTES AND PROFESSIONAL PRINT PLANNING

The management of Registrar and Transfer Company established Commerce Financial Printers in 1983 in order to provide more all-inclusive security services to their clients. It has proved to be a positive and mutually beneficial partnership. As the printing affiliate for Registrar and Transfer Company, Commerce Financial Printers enjoys a unique position in the industry. Your R&T Administrator and your CFP Account Executive are a team united for your welfare.

How will YOU benefit by having your transfer agent and printer closely aligned?

Registrar and Transfer Company and Commerce Financial Printers work as a team to provide better solutions by:

- ◆ having knowledgeable personnel from both transfer agent and financial printing arenas closely coordinating each production;
- ◆ co-locating the R&T mail room at CFP to further improve coordination and reduce shipping expenses;
- ◆ having a common vision to create new products and services in answer to your needs;
- ◆ integrating high definition laser printing with investor mailing to produce personalized, high-quality investor communications.

The same spirit with which CFP was founded continues to shape policy and fuel the expansion of services to our clients. We hope you will let us put our energy and talents to work for you!
